

HIGH SCHOOLS

Community Rowing has 18 athletes committed to college crew programs

By Craig Larson Globe Staff, Updated May 31, 2021, 9:02 a.m.

From left, the boys from Community Rowing recruited to row in college: Ian Wright, Patrick McLaughlin, Jack Carr and Charles Sloan. COMMUNITY ROWING

Community Rowing, Inc. provides the opportunity for hundreds and hundreds of aspiring young rowers. CRI was the starting point for 18 current high school seniors who have been recruited to row collegiately at Division I and III programs across the country.

From the varsity girls' program, under the direction of coach Skye Elliot, the commitments are:

Camille Arnold-Mages (Waltham / Northeastern)

Leah Bailey (Watertown / Harvard)

ADVERTISING

Replay

Talia Brodsky (Newton North / Duke)

Sonya Carson (Lincoln Sudbury / Boston University)

Clara Cheng (Lexington / Columbia)

Esme Dodge (Belmont / Columbia)

Delaney Donnelly (Wellesley / Lehigh)

Julia Eneyeni (Wellesley HS / Tufts)

Neev Gamble (Wellesley / Notre Dame)

Margaux Gryska (Wellesley / Syracuse University)

Sarah Iannone (Newton North / College of the Holy Cross)

Jessica McGrady (Needham / Brown)

Paloma Sequeira (Cambridge Rindge and Latin / Stanford University)

Maja Tellander (Wellesley / Dartmouth)

The girls from Community Rowing that are varsity recruited athletes; front row, from left: Sarah Iannone, Julia Eneyeni, Leah Bailey and Camille Arnold-Mages; back row: Jessica McGrady, Sonya Carson, Margaux Gryska, Esme Dodge, Maja Tellander, Neev Gamble, Delaney Donnelly, Paloma Sequeira and Clara Cheng. COMMUNITY ROWING

The varsity boys' program, coached by Will Congram, has four recruited athletes:

Jack Carr (Wellesley / Trinity)

Patrick McLaughlin (Belmont / Holy Cross)

Charles Sloan (Needham / Milton Academy / MIT)

Ian Wright (Belmont / WPI).

The CRI athletes have successfully competed in numerous races, including the USRowing youth nationals, the Royal Canadian Henley, the USRowing regionals, the Head of the Charles and the Head of the Fish.

Craig Larson can be reached at craig.larson@globe.com.

Hide comments

2 Comments

Sort by:

Best

Newest

Oldest

Sailed

5/31/21 - 9:24AM

WOW! Congrats to all.

Lusmom

5/31/21 - 1:20PM

Go Bantams!

Please login to comment

©2021 Boston Globe Media Partners, LLC